Heidi Kühn is acclaimed as a revolutionary leader for her inspirational work creating Roots of Peace – an organization dedicated to transforming toxic minefields into bountiful agricultural fields.

Kuhn has focused the organization's efforts in Afghanistan, Angola, Cambodia, Croatia, Iraq, Bosnia-Herzegovina and Vietnam on removing landmines and planting "seeds of hope."

Prior to her work on the landmine issue, Kühn owned her own television news organization, NewsLink International, reporting for CNN and other news organizations.

An incredible opportunity to hear from this visionary leader - your newest Chancellor's Associates Scholar.
